DIVERSITY AND INCLUSIVITY IN NORTHERN ONTARIO

The importance of cultural education, equality and inclusivity can be seen and is embraced throughout the six Northern Ontario colleges and cities.

Northern Ontario has a vibrant population of visible minorities, including immigrants, international students and urban indigenous individuals. Thousands of students from Southeast Asia, India, China and Africa decided to make the move to a Study North college, and that number is growing year after year!

All Study North colleges welcome diversity and encourage inclusive events to make students feel at home. There is a strong presence of the LGBTQ+ community in Northern Ontario. Organizations such as Northern Pride and Rainbow Camp work to educate and celebrate the LGBTQ+ community. Each Study North college has a dedicated LGBTQ+ student club that students are encouraged to join!

Study North colleges take great pride in Northern Ontario's Indigenous culture. Each college provides opportunities for students to be a part of and learn about cultural rituals including powwows and smudging ceremonies that take place regularly on campus.

Whether you're from Brampton or Bangladesh, Caledon or China, Newmarket or Namibia, Study North colleges will ensure your college experience and life in Northern Ontario will be your new home away from home.

"I applied to multiple colleges north of the Greater Toronto Area, but ultimately chose Northern College as it is listed as one of the top schools for NCLEX passing rates. Certainly the class size and clinical opportunities have aided.

I enjoyed learning in a small class environment as it provided a lot of one-on-one opportunities not only in class, but also in clinical settings."
